INTERBEV 2010 IS 3 WEEKS AWAY!

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- InterBev 2010, the beverage industry's premier trade show, brought to you by the American Beverage Association (ABA) and the International Bottled Water Association (IBWA), is just around the corner. Change is happening faster than ever in our industry, and InterBev is the place to see the latest in our industry's challenges, trends and solutions.

"This is a new era for InterBev, bringing together the best of previous shows with the addition of signature live events, including an Industry Town Hall, the Beverage Innovation Awards and more," said Susan K. Neely, ABA president and CEO. "InterBev is surely the place to be for members of our industry."

"There is no doubt that InterBev 2010 will bring a whole new level of energy and excitement for both attendees and exhibitors alike," said Joe Doss, IBWA president and CEO. "Participants will clearly get even more value out of this year's show, educational seminars and networking opportunities than ever before."

Among the new and exciting events at InterBev 2010 will be the opportunity to hear from William McDonough, author of Cradle to Cradle. Recognized by Time magazine as a "Hero for the Planet," McDonough has a long list of accomplishments in environmentally sound, sustainable architecture and design. Also of note will be a discussion on the challenges of doing business in the 21st century featuring Irial Finan of The Coca-Cola Company. Finan has more than 28 years of worldwide experience at Coca-Cola, and hearing his perspective on the future of the beverage industry is something that shouldn't be missed.
